

THE EVENING NEWS.

FIFTH YEAR—NO. 75

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1899.

TWO CENTS.

NICE WINTER WEATHER

It Is Being Greatly Enjoyed By Skaters.

Cold Will Continue Tomorrow at Least.

Shippers Afraid of Sending Perishables.

Benton Harbor is now enjoying the longest pull of cold weather for the winter. The thermometer does not touch zero at night but it does not reach a thawing point in the middle of the day and the atmosphere has a decidedly wintry flavor.

Rating is excellent and the young people are enjoying the sport. When it was read in the papers last night that the school house at Bridgeman was burned one of the Benton Harbor boys who would rather skate than go to school was heard to remark that he wished he lived in Bridgeman, but why he wanted to live there he did not say. Wise persons perhaps can guess.

The cold snap has made the shippers of perishable goods a little on the lookout. Today Tryon & Brown waited to order some eggs until today's weather report was received as they wanted to see if the indications were for milder weather. When they learned that the temperature would continue unchanged they ordered the eggs to come by express and thus took no chance of their freezing by freight.

The roads are smooth and traveling a luxury even if it is a little cold. All agree that it is the best kind of weather for everybody, except the doctors.

Paw Paw lake was not frozen over yesterday and Mr. Brown of the ice company says that it will take much colder weather than this before there can be any thought of an ice harvest.

Dancing School.

Mrs. Howard Vincent's dancing class will meet in Conkey's hall tomorrow night from 7 until 9 o'clock after which a social dance will be held.

1600 TONS OF BEETS

MAMMOTH CROP GROWN ON SHAKER FARM.

The last load of beets from the Shaker farm near the village of Berrien Springs was hauled today and the four gentlemen from this city who are interested in the enterprise are more than pleased with their first experience in raising sugar beets for the Wolverine factory here.

Off from the one farm was taken sixteen hundred tons of sugar beets which is considered a big yield.

The gentlemen interested in the farm are R. M. Jones, Harry L. Bird, John Robinson and Dr. H. C. Rockwell.

ONE PIONEER LESS.

AARON VAN PATTEN, AGED 82, BURIED TODAY.

Aaron Van Patten, aged 82 years, and an old pioneer of this county, died at his home near Berrien Springs last Tuesday and was buried today.

Mr. Van Patten has been in ill health for some years and a few years ago was declared incompetent by the probate court and a guardian was appointed. He leaves a family of grown children and an estate valued at about $10,000.

Mr. Van Patten has held some very important county positions and in his early life was considered a very bright man.

BOOM STILL ON

Berrien Springs Has Chance for Big Factory.

The village of Berrien Springs is decidedly on the boom and besides the new canning factories which will be running in that village next year, it is expected that several manufacturing institutions will find locations there.

One of the latest chances the village has of getting a new concern is the proposition made by George Meeker, of South Whitley, Ind. Mr. Meeker recently sold his heading and stave factory at South Whitley and is in search of a new location where there is plenty of timber and as Berrien Springs has this advantage Mr. Meeker made the proposition that if five acres of land was furnished him he would erect a mill, equip it with machinery and furnish employment to from sixty to eighty men the year around.

The hustling village will not let this chance slip and it is understood that the land has been donated.

Work on the new canning factories has shut down on account of the cold weather.

OLD YEAR WEDDINGS

LAST WEEK OF 1899 HAS ITS SHARE OF BLISS.

ONE IN ST. JOSEPH AND ONE IN BAINBRIDGE.

A very pretty wedding occurred in St. Joseph at 7:30 last evening at the home of the bride's parents at 809 Broad street, when Charles Gess, superintendent at the knitting factory, and Miss Lulu Overton were married. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Taylor of Benton Harbor in the presence of a large number of friends. Miss Laura Overton, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Charles Gladstone was best man.

After the ceremony an elegant wedding supper was served. The bride received a very large list of valuable and useful presents. The bride and her parents formerly lived in Benton Harbor.

A happy wedding took place at Penn Yan yesterday afternoon at which time Ernest E. Cribbs and Miss Ella E. Randall were united in marriage by Rev. A. K. Beem, pastor of the First Universalist church of this city.

The wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents and was witnessed by forty friends. An elaborate wedding dinner was served.

Mr. Cribbs is a relative of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Peters of this city.

Daughter—Why, ma!

Her Lack.

Mrs. Hoon (indignantly)—I wonder why Mrs. Gabbleton doesn't mind her own business?

DOES YOUR BOY NEED

BRITANNICA?

A well-known superintendent of schools has given it as his opinion that pupils who have access to the Encyclopaedia Britannica stand 33 1/4 per cent. higher in their studies than those that do not enjoy this privilege.

YOUTH....

Is the formative period. What a boy reads in his youth becomes a part of his very character. To give your boy a chance means that you will see to it that he has the best surroundings, and your encouragement.

ROUT OF FILIPINOS.

Attacked in Their Trenches by Col. Lockett's Command.

A FIERCE ENGAGEMENT IS FOUGHT.

Four Americans Wounded—Insurgent Loss Heavy—Details of the Recent Battle in Which Maj. Logan Fell.

Manila, Dec. 28.—Col. Lockett, with a force of 2,500, including artillery, attacked Wednesday morning a strong force of insurgents entrenched in the mountains near Montabalan, about five miles northeast of San Mateo. The enemy were completely routed, the Americans pursuing them through the hills, amid which they fled in every direction. Four Americans were wounded. The Filipino loss was large, resulting from a heavy infantry and artillery fire for three hours into the trenches. It is supposed that the insurgents were those who were driven out of San Mateo on the day Gen. Lawton was killed. They numbered probably a thousand.

A dozen lines of insurgent trenches covered the steep trail through the hills and likewise the valley below, along which the Americans passed. The main attacking party consisted of the Forty-sixth volunteer infantry, a troop of cavalry and artillery, Col. Lockett commanding in person. The rest of the command operated from remote points in an endeavor to carry out Col. Lockett's plan of throwing his lines around the enemy and thus cutting off retreat. The nature of the mountainous country made it impracticable to execute this movement successfully. After the insurgents began to run there was a vain attempt to use artillery.

One American Killed.

Manila, Dec. 28.—It now appears that one American was killed in the attack upon the Subig garrison Tuesday by Gen. Santa Ana.

Will Be Sent Home.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Quartermaster General Ludington received a cable message Wednesday from Col. Miller, of the quartermaster's department at Manila, saying that arrangements have been made to send home the remains of Maj. Gen. Lawton, Maj. John A. Logan, Jr., and Maj. Armstrong on the transport Thomas, which will leave on the 30th inst.

The Story of a Battle.

Washington, Dec. 28.—Maj. Lockett's forces reached the rear of the rebel camp in regard to the crushing defeat suffered by Wheaton's brigade to the insurgents near San Jacinto, early in November, in which engagement Maj. John A. Logan, Jr., lost his life. According to the correspondent of the Manila American, the Thirty-third infantry, under Col. Hare, encountered a force of the enemy between San Fabian and San Jacinto, and brought on one of the sharpest engagements of the war, resulting in the death of more insurgents than in any other fight since the beginning of the insurrection. The battle raged for two hours and at its conclusion 77 dead Filipinos were found in the trenches. Many wounded were found hidden in the high grass and creek bottoms. It is estimated that over 100 insurgents were killed in the fight, from 20 to 30 being found together in several places.

Twenty-nine prisoners and 100 rifles were captured. The Americans lost one officer killed and six men wounded.

Logan Killed Early in Battle.

The officer killed was Maj. John A. Logan, Jr., who was shot through the head during the first few minutes of the engagement, while at the head of his battalion, which formed an advanced guard. He was in the act of assisting a wounded soldier and was hit by a Moser bullet, fired by a sharpshooter concealed in the top of a coconut tree. He died a few hours later.

The fight was opened by the insurgents two miles from San Jacinto while the leading battalion was passing a clump of native houses surrounded by a grove of coconut trees. The men were knee-deep in mud. The first fire came from sharpshooters in trees and houses, and from a small trench across the road, all at close range. There was also a heavy fire from thickets more distant to the right and left.

Aim of Sharpshooters Deadly.

The aim of the sharpshooters was deadly and was directed at the officers, for the first five men that fell wore either chevrons or shoulder straps. The other officer hit besides Maj. Logan was Capt. Green. He was also shot from a tree, but his wound was slight. The regiment never wavered a moment. The crack marksman it contains soon located the natives and began knocking them out of trees like squirrels. The men rushed at the trench, through the soft mud, waist deep, and passed over it, leaving four dead Filipinos within.

At the same time the regiment deployed as skirmishers, Maj. Logan's battalion in the center, Maj. Cronin's on the right and Maj. Marsh's on the left. Col. Hare and Lieut. Col. Breerton directed the general movement. The skirmish line, which was nearly two miles long, rushed forward rapidly through water-soaked rice fields, ditches, creeks and thickets, firing all the time and doing deadly execution.

Filipinos Make Good Stand.

The Filipinos made the best stand for a long time, several cases being reported of the rebels remaining in position behind cover until the Americans were within 20 feet of them. Maj. Marsh's battalion surprised a trench full of insurgents by coming upon their flank. They poured a terrible fire along the trench, slaughtering nearly all in it. Just before entering the town the Gating did good execution by killing five of a party that was guarding a broken bridge and afterward swept the country beyond the town, driving 150 rebels into the hills. Maj. Marsh's battalion entered the town first and captured a large battleflag that was floating over a convent. Not a native was left in the town when the troops arrived, except a blind boy and one woman. Most of the survivors of the insurgent force are supposed to have escaped toward Magalond or Dagupan. It was impossible to pursue them further, as the troops were exhausted, the ammunition was low, and the troops only had two days' rations with them, and no possibility of getting further supplies from San Fabian, owing to the condition of the road. The column camped for the night at San Jacinto.

Five more rebels were killed during the night by the outposts. Among the bodies found was that of a lieutenant colonel, supposed to be in command of the rebels at that point.

MOODY'S WORK.

Apprentice Made for Endowment of $3,000,000 with Which to Keep Up His Institutions.

East Northfield, Mass., Dec. 28.—An appeal to the world to provide funds for the continuation of the work begun and for 20 years carried on by Dwight L. Moody was issued Wednesday by the trustees of the Northfield seminary. This plea will be the only action taken by the trustees until their meeting a month hence. The plea is entitled "Moody Memorial Endowment."

Mr. Moody's institutions are unique in character. They consist of the Northfield seminary and training school for young women, the Mount Hermon school for young men and the Bible institute at Chicago. At the Northfield schools the annual cost is about $200 a pupil. At Chicago the amount required approximately is $150 each for 300 students, and the sum of about $125,000 annually is required to maintain the work. A fund of $3,000,000 is asked for, which, at four per cent., will perpetuate the work of Mr. Moody.

WAR ANTICIPATED.

Oriental Advises Declare Hostilities Between Japan and Russia Almost Certain.

Victoria, B. C., Dec. 28.—The City of London arrived here Wednesday from the orient with news of a prospective war between Russia and Japan. Her officers say that all Japan is now of the opinion that hostilities will break out between these two nations in the spring. Before the steamer left Japan the insular kingdom was buying up great quantities of rice and even going so far as to make arrangements for transports to make a demonstration in Corea. Great activity prevails on all sides in Japanese naval circles. A Shanghai report says that Russia has dispatched a fleet of three warships to Masampo, the bone of contention which is now causing strained relations between the two nations.

Will Resume.

New York, Dec. 28.—The Produce Exchange Trust company, which suspended December 19, will reopen for business under what will practically be new management and new capital on January 1 to next. This decision was arrived at Wednesday after a meeting of the trustees, the reorganization committee, headed by Edwin Gould, and some other prominent interests, chief among whom was Gen. Samuel Thomas. Edwin Gould was elected president and Gen. Thomas first vice-president of the company.

Well-Known Journalist Dead.
La Crosse, Wis., Dec. 28.—Seneca E. Truestell, one of the oldest newspaper men in the northwest, died in this city Wednesday night of a complication of ailments resulting in dropsy. For many years he was connected with various capacities with the Pioneer Press in St. Paul. Previous to that time he worked in St. Louis and San Francisco. His first daily newspaper experience was with the La Crosse Daily Chronicle. His age was 50.

The Quay Contest.

Washington, Dec. 28.—The senate committee on privileges and elections will take up the contest over the seat in the senate claimed by Senator Quay under the appointment of the governor of Pennsylvania soon after the close of the holiday recess. Members of the committee predict early action by the committee, and hope to have it disposed of in the senate during the month of January.

Debt Wiped Out.

Ashland, Wis., Dec. 28.—Cash contributions by R. L. McCormick, of Hayward, and other prominent citizens of Wisconsin have wiped out the debt of $15,000 which hung over the North Wisconsin academy of Ashland since it was built in 1872. The academy is run under the auspices of the Congregational church of Wisconsin.

New Boathouse Burned.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 28.—Harvard's new boathouse on Charles river parkway, which was almost completed, was burned Wednesday and the launch Frank Thompson, a gift of the late president of the Pennsylvania railroad to Harvard, was badly damaged. The loss is estimated at $37,000.

Brothers Slain.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 28.—As the result of a dispute between John and James Carter, brothers, and Bud Lyne, a neighbor, at Flynn Lick, Putnam county, a quarrel ensued, terminating in Lyne killing the brothers. All are farmers.

THE EVENING NEWS.

FIFTH YEAR—NO. 75

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., THURSDAY, DECEMBER 28, 1899.

TWO CENTS.

AN IDEAL WOMAN

Such Col. Bain Pictured the New Woman to Be.

A Sketch of the Speaker When He Is at Home.

Col. George W. Bain of Lexington, Ky., delivered the fourth lecture in the Y. M. C. A. course last night. His subject was, "The New Woman and the Old Man," and the 600 or 700 people were disappointed. The disappointment was a happy one, however. Instead of making the new woman a hideous monstrosity she was pictured as the real and the ideal woman of the future.

The colonel was introduced by Rev. E. A. Hoffman, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and he too shared the general idea that the "new woman" was going to catch it, for he said in his introduction that the speaker would not be compelled to spare his subject on account of the feelings of his audience for the "old man used to live in Benton Harbor but lived here no more and the new woman came and looked and passed on." Before the lecture was over Mr. Hoffman and the other members of the audience would have been glad if all the Benton Harbor women were new women.

The speaker opened the address by referring to the time when the woman was compelled to wash the wool, spin the yarn, make the cloth, knit and weave. These labors have been lifted by inventions of machinery and the woman seeks other employment and you cannot stop her hands and her mind any more than you can stop her tongue. In looking at the new woman the picture should be properly poised as to light and shadow. In the picture some see only such figures as Dr. Mary Walker and forget that there are even spots on the sun and freckles on the faces of pretty girls. When I was a boy our pastor used to preach from the Bible and prove that the book upheld the idea of slavery. But while he was preaching and we were believing it at the same time the bible was at work rooting out forever the slave system on our soil. So now some are proving that the Bible preaches against the new woman but the influences of the bible are bringing woman into a higher sphere. I was the bible that emancipated her from being yoked with an ox and plowing in the field. It is the same influence that will bring her in larger to spheres.

If the woman is better fitted for basiness or literary pursuits he said she should follow them. If a man is a better cook than anything else he should cook. In courage he placed the woman far above the man. The courage of man is tested on the battlefield but that is not a test. Let 10,000 men march shoulder to shoulder with you, the air filled with martial music, and it is easy to be brave. But woman's courage is very different. She enters alone the shadowy valley to give life, and if her loved ones are assaulted she defends them with a courage that is not found in man. God wants woman to do her best. Some are fitted to preside over homes and there is no nobler calling than this. Women like Frances Willard and Clara Barton have other duties to perform, for they have different talents.

Some people are very much disturbed about the future of woman but it is the future of the man that worries me. Go to the saloons and you will find them full of women—no, men. Go to the gambling dens and you will find them full of women—no, men. Go to the jails and penitentiaries and you will find them full of women—no, men. Go to the churches and you will find them full of men—no, women.

He said that some writer had figured out that among a certain number of college girls only a few married. This is an unfair estimate for it could not be told how many would marry until all were dead. A father willed all his vast estate to his son on the condition that he lived and died a bachelor. The son went into court to secure the estate but the probate judge told him that according to the terms of the will he could not secure the estate until he had "died a bachelor." If all girls were college girls he declared that there would not be as many misfit and unhappy marriages. At the marriage after the girl with trained mind would demand honor for honor, purity for purity and would make sure that the man she married had a loving heart and a store of useful knowledge. He would, if he could, call back the young girls from their dreams of love and happiness in marriage based on no foundation. The new woman ought to and will have the ballot.

The old man was pictured not as a man with white hair but a man young or old living in the past cherishing no ideals of advancement. They are responsible for bringing panics upon the country. All the gold and silver in the country would not pay the old man's drink and tobacco bill for fifteen months and in two years the old man drinks up and smokes up all the gold, silver and paper money in the country. That is one of the reasons for hard times. Another reason for hard times was the extravagance of the people. When times grow better the women buy more dry goods and the men more wet goods.

He paid an eloquent tribute to our nation. No one can conquer until God deserts and God will never desert us until we desert him. We could fight all the world and then pur-

CHRISTMAS OF 1839.

Editor Cook of Niles Mirror Dined With Indians.

Niles Star: In the winter of 1839-40, D. B. Cook, editor of the Niles Mirror, left the office of the Kalamazoo Gazette with a view to regain his health in the forests of Allegan county, accompanied by a young man named Jas. Knobles. With a rifle, traps and everything necessary for a winter's campaign, they bid farewell to H. B. Gilbert, proprietor of the Gazette, and the office boys, and with an ox team wended their way along the old Grand Rapids road via Gull prairie, and when a few miles beyond Yankee Springs, turned on a blind road into the forests. An old log cabin, erected on land said to be owned by one Seymour, of Allegan, was reached, which was converted into their winter home. The forest was alive with wolves, deer, and other wild animals, and there were plenty of Indians. Among the Indians was Adamiram Judson, educated in English by Gen. Lewis Cass, who was interpreter for him when making treaties. There was Saginaw, an old chief of the Pottawattamies, then about 80 years old, Indians Gosa, Sunagun, Pe-Ma-Queen, leaders. These were their guests at Christmas dinner. Saginaw sent for Noonday, chief of the Ottawa tribe, who was at the Slater mission near Gull Prairie, who also came. A table was borrowed of the best settler in that region, Nelson Chambers, and to it was added boards. Their seats were shingle blocks. Saginaw sat at the head of the table with Noonday on his right. Adamiram Judson sat at the foot as interpreter. The editor of the Mirror and his companion occupied positions on each side of the chiefs. Pewter plates were used. The dinner consisted of two rams, two wild turkeys, venison, potatoes, bread and coffee. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers aided them much. Lydia, wife of Gosa, acted well her part as waiter. The principal talk was between Saginaw, Noonday and Judson. Those present were all with the British in the war of 1812 except Judson, and the talk was principally on how they would join the Americans if another war came. Saginaw, Noonday and Gosa took leave from the head after he had been shot by Col. Johnson, and after dinner Saginaw sneaked in Tecumseh's name. They had a good time. The dinner was given for the purpose of pacifying the Indians who were still at the editor and his friend for being, as they said, on their hunting ground. However, it did not have the effect generally which was expected, for hostilities did not cease until they saved one of Saginaw's wives from the wolves.

The handsome village of Wayland occupies the very ground they did in 1830, and the sparkling spring near their log cabin was and is now medicinal water, and the inhabitants enjoy artesian wells everywhere. Benjamin Chambers, son of Nelson, the first settler, keeps a hotel there now, and the Grand Rapids & Indiana railroad runs directly over the ground of a black ash swamp where the editor set their wolf traps.

VOTERS OF THE STATE.

May Be Asked to Permit Detroit to Own Street Railways.

Detroit, Dec. 28.—Mayor Maybury has called a special session of the city council for tonight to frame a resolution requesting the governor to suggest to the legislature a proposition to submit to the people a constitutional amendment whereby the city of Detroit may be empowered to own and operate its street railways. While the origin of this new municipal ownership movement is in some doubt, it is believed that the governor and mayor are agreed as to the general proposition.

THE move of Governor Pingree to remove the state capital to Detroit will be very popular—in Detroit.

WHEN the Bell opera house is finished the 3-S road will be running the excursions the other way.

AFTER Col. Bain delivers his lecture in every city and town in the United States there will be more women who will aspire to the distinction of being the "new woman."

MAYOR Rowe did not know a thing about the prize fight Tuesday night until he read it in THE NEWS last night. In the rush of the Christmas mail it appears that the mayor's invitation was lost.

ENGLAND has seized some breadstuffs belonging to American citizens and the Washington government has demanded indemnity and an apology. If this is the sort of an Anglo-Saxon alliance that Jo Chamberlain has been talking about the American people will not crave any more of it.

THE friends of Col. Bryan have cause for worry. The colonel is now down in Texas hunting mountain lions. It will be remembered that four years ago he went to New York to hunt the Tammany tiger but before he got away the tiger was hunting him. It is hoped that the lions will not follow the example of the tiger.

THE Chicago Chronicle calls loudly to Secretary Hay to make England give us the American flour she has captured on the pretext that it was contraband of war. The Chronicle uses a very weak argument in sustaining its position by saying that vigorous measures must be taken or England will make a doormat of the United States. Who cares this weather? Doormats are not used when the mud is all frozen.

A Shepherd Bird.

The yakamik, a bird of the crane family, is used by the natives of Venezuela in place of a shepherd dog for guarding and herding their flocks. It is said that, however far the yakamik may wander with the flocks, it never fails to find its way home at night, driving before it all the creatures intrusted to its care.—N. Y. Herald.

Simple Way to Strengthen the Lungs.
Strengthening the lungs, especially the apices, may be done by blowing through a small pipestem or tube that will allow the breath to pass out slowly. First fill the lungs with good air, then blow with steady force vigorously, but not violently. A few times daily will be sufficient.—Ladies' Home Journal.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. 1-4 off Our Fifth Annual Quarter Off Sale 1-4 off

On Tuesday, January 2, 1900, we will commence our FIFTH ANNUAL 1-4 OFF SALE. You all know the reliability of these sales; for the last 5 years we have had them, and every one has been legitimate; no marking up and then reducing, but a straight 25 per cent discount all through the store. Our stock this year is as good as ever, our Dress Goods department in particular. If you need anything for early spring we would advise you to buy now, as everything will cost you much more in the spring.

Dress Goods In swell Crepons, Venetians, Marlboros, Chevlets, Golflings, Wool Mixtures, etc., cheaper than ever—think:

All $2.00 stuff at $1.50.

All $1.00 stuff at 75c.

All 50c stuff at 37½c.

And good legitimate goods.

Furs Collarettes and storm collars. A good line to select from, but at prevailing prices should not last the week.

Jackets We have done better than 25 per cent on these goods; some of them being cut in two, and a large percentage going at 35 and 40 per cent off.

Battenburg and Art Linens

We sold nearly a carload of these goods during the holidays; we will close out the balance at your price.

Waists Silk, Satin and Wool. Our line is away above the average, and you should look these over.

Blankets Where will you find a better line than ours. Look the town over. These goods were dirt cheap in the first place, and with the discount off won't last long.

Underwear In this department are three lines we can't reduce, our ladies' at 23 and 35 and our gents' at 44c, we were selling these goods at cost originally. EVERYTHING ELSE in this department at the discount; an elegant line of ribbed and flat goods to select from. Our misses' and children's stock was never more complete. See that Misses' Union Suit at 19c.

Outing Flannels, Domestic Prints, Cambrics, Percales, Handkerchiefs, Veiling, Dimities, etc., they all go at 1-4 off.

Petticoats A swell line of mercerized goods that we want to get rid of. We have altogether too many of them. You should look at these.

Dressing Sacques What is home without one might as well be without a cook stove. They are no longer a luxury, but a necessity, winner at 65c.

Corsets R. & G., W. C. C., Cresco, W. B., F. C., Flexibone Moulded, C. C. C., and Imperial; they go at the same rate. All $1.00 corsets at 75c.

Hosiery This department is unsurpassed. We have nearly everything in plain hosiery that could be wished for. That Ladies' Hose at 8c is a winner.

Fancy Goods at your own price.

Table Linens We are harping at you again on Linens, but we can't help it; we feel that every house in this county should be supplied with our linens; not because we sell them, but because they are cheaper than our competitors. We know they are; we import them ourselves and consequently we save you our profit. And now we are going to reduce even these prices 25 per cent. Why shouldn't you buy now. Better prices than ever.

Remember we commence this sale Tuesday morning, January 2, 1900. Our experience has taught us that those who come first have the best success. We will be ready for you and will give you our best attention.

SIGNAL-TAG MAIL BOX.

Good Thing for Localities Where the House-to-House Collection System Has Been Introduced.

The post office department has ordered that in all cities and towns having free delivery the postal system shall be extended to include house-to-house collections, and the system is also extended to all rural free-delivery routes. One of the requirements, says the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, which the citizen must observe is to supply his own mail box. Postmasters are instructed to give information about the boxes and encourage householders to put them up.

The government has made special recommendation of a certain kind of mail box represented in the accompanying cut. This box is a unique contrivance fitted with automatic signal flags so that the passing carrier can see at a glance if there is any mail deposited in it for him to collect. It is also a receptacle for delivered mail, and a different-colored flag apprises the householder when the carrier leaves any mail in the box. One of the flags is white and the other red. The box is to be affixed to a post near the street convenient for the carrier.

It is fitted with perfect locks, and when the carrier drops mail into the box the white flag immediately comes up, which indicates that there is mail for the people at the house. Dropping a letter to be mailed into the box raises the red flag, which is the signal to the passing carrier. It is large enough for the largest-sized letters and has separate spaces for papers and packages. It is the intention of the post office department to introduce the house-to-house collection system as soon as possible.

Draying.

REV. Dr. Cogshall administered a good rebuke to a city barber the other day. The doctor climbed into the chair and adjusted himself for a shave, when the barber inquired, "Will you have a shave?" The pastor replied, "I didn't come in to get a load of hay."

CONTRACTOR Allmendinger has the hull of the steamer Mary about three feet out of the water and expects to finish the job of raising by Saturday. If the hull is found in a good condition it will be taken to Allmendinger's ship yard and pumped out and fit the new steamer Mary will be constructed.

SOME one started the story that a saloon would be opened in one of the corner rooms in the new opera house building. There are two reasons for doubting the truth of the rumor. The managers of the house would not rent the room for the purpose and the state law would prohibit it. There is no need to lose sleep over the proposition.

THE concert to be given in the Universalist church tomorrow night by Mrs. Nellie Hobbs Smythe, Mrs. Octavia Hobbs Bracken, Robert Arthur Smythe, William S. Bracken, assisted by Miss Anna Watson, reader, will be a musical treat and as the artists are all favorites in this city the church will undoubtedly be crowded. The admission is 50 cents.

It is a book of great value to all insurance companies and is a good addition to any library. These attorneys are making a specialty of the insurance laws and will issue an edition of the digest every year.

TIMOTHY Talbot, John Wenman and a man named Scott who were arrested for running a gambling game in this city during the street carnival, had their hearing in Justice Graves court yesterday afternoon. Attorney W. C. Nichols represented the defendants and Prosecuting Attorney Valentine the people. The three men furnished bonds for their appearance at the next term of the circuit court. Mr. Wenman was merely held as a witness.

ABOUT 150 people from the twin cities attended the play, "Oliver Goldsmith," as played by Stuart Robson last evening at Oliver's theater at South Bend. The play met the fullest expectations of the crowd. They arrived home about 2 o'clock very much pleased with the evening. The party took their luncheon with them and at it on the train on their return. Street cars met the train at South Bend and took the visitors to the door of the theatre. On the return Col. Bean had cars in waiting at St. Joseph and there was nowhere a hitch in the arrangement.

"BLACKIE," a hobo who has been hanging around the various saloons of the city during the past few months, had an insane desire to have a rough house in the Red Front saloon on Water street last evening. The proprietor of the saloon, Peter Weber, concluded that he was boss and kicked the hobo from the place and not being satisfied with this he proceeded to pound and kick him. Weber returned to his place of business and "Blackie" visited a neighboring alley, secured a piece of stove wood and threw it through the glass windows of the saloon. Officer Jenkins heard the commotion and arrived on the scene in time to take "Blackie" to the city jail.

UNIQUE EQUIPMENT.

How Two Philadelphia Inventors Would Protect Cavalry Horses and Their Riders.

The chargers' coat of mail of the old days of knighthood has been obsolete for many years, and it has never, apparently, occurred to anyone since that time to protect the cavalry horse from injury by some sort of armor, until Franz Hieke and Conrad Hieke, of Philadelphia, patented recently the cavalry equipment here illustrated. This arrangement, says the Louisville Courier-Journal, consists of a light iron framework to project in front of the horse and extend along his flanks as shown. The end of the framework, which is shaped like the bow of a boat, terminates in a sharp point or blade, which is apt to demoralize any troops upon which the cavalry charges, at least causing them to turn to one side or the other to evade it, and making it difficult for anyone, mounted or unmounted, to approach very near the trooper. Just in front of the breast of the horse, and suspended from an iron rod fastened between the two sides of the framework, is a curtain of chain mail designed to protect the horse from injury. The claims made for this equipment are that it is novel, inexpensive, of light weight, and does not interfere with the freedom of movement of the trooper or the rapidity of travel, combining a formidable weapon and a protector for the horse.

PROTECTION FOR HORSES.
(Shield and Armor to Protect Them Against Thrusts and Bullets.)

Boers Are Active.

London, Dec. 28.—Winston Churchill's new arrival at Chievely camp is perhaps responsible for some overcoloring of the gravity of the situation, but all to-day's news conveys the impression that Buller may be intending another attack upon the Boers.

Certainly the Boers are not inactive. At both Modder river and the Tugela they are said to be strengthening their forces and extending defense works, which in both cases are seemingly almost impregnable.

Dispatches from Chievely indicate that Gen. Buller's forces will remobilize at Frere before attempting another advance. Doubtless he would be glad to retrieve the Colenso reverse before the arrival of Lord Roberts, yet he is hardly likely to attempt another frontal attack. It is more likely that he is preparing to strike should the Boers make any offensive movement.

At a Deadlock.

New York, Dec. 28.—Dr. Thomas O'Callaghan, a well-known physician of Jersey City, died suddenly Wednesday day while making a professional call. After the doctor entered the sick room he asked for a spoon. An attendant went for one, and when he returned the doctor was lying on the floor unconscious and died before aid could be summoned.

Best Part of a Town Burned.

Minneapolis, Minn., Dec. 28.—A Times special from Fessenden, N. D., says: Fire broke out Wednesday evening about nine o'clock in Hall's livery barn, and half the business portion of the town was consumed before the flames were under control. The loss is estimated at $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

Calumet, Mich., Dec. 28.—British Americans in Calumet are much wrought up over reported arrangements for a Fenian raid of Canada, and a secret meeting is reported to have been held at which over 100 Englishmen who still love their mother country decided to volunteer their services in case of a Fenian raid.

Boer Position Shelled.

Chievely Camp, Natal, Tuesday, Dec. 26. The naval guns began shelling the Boer position at five o'clock this morning, using lacrylite. The shelling continued about two hours. Ever since the engagement at Colenso the enemy have been energetically improving their intrenchments. They can be seen galloping treach from hill to hill. Lucy Smith also had a busy morning to-day, shelling the Boer position on Unbulwana mountain. The bursting shells were plainly visible here.

Bated News.

Kimberley, Wednesday, Dec. 20.—At half-past two o'clock this morning mounted detachments under Col. Peakman, with three maxims, and three seven-pounders, under Maj. May, reconnoitered. Leaving the intrenchments, the British advanced on Toll Pan. The Boer pickets fired and our maxims replied. The Boers disappearing over the ridge. Our guns then began to shell Toll Pan at a range of 2,500 yards. A Boer gun dropped four shells near our men but did no damage. As the Boers were strongly entrenched, we withdrew. Their guns are well placed.

SUFFERED DANGER AND PRIVATION.

Gen. Kitchener Goes Aboard Lord Roberts' Ship at Gibraltar, and Together They Sail for Cape Town.

London, Dec. 28.—Mr. Winston Churchill has cabled and the Morning Post publishes an account of his escape from captivity with the Boers after having been made a prisoner in the reconnaissance of an armored train Estcourt. The dispatch, which is dated Lourenco Marques, December 21, says:

"In the evening I concealed myself in a railway truck under a great pile of sacks. I had a small store of good water. I remained hidden so, fearing discovery. The Boers searched the train at Komatiport, but did not search deep enough. After some 60 hours of misery I came safely here. I am very weak, but am free. I have lost many pounds in weight, but am light in heart. I shall avail myself of every opportunity henceforth to urge earnestly the unflinching and uncompromising prosecution of the war."

"On the afternoon of December 12, the Transvaal's secretary of war informed me that there was little chance of my release. I therefore resolved to escape, and the same night I left the state schools prison in Pretoria by climbing the wall when the sentries' backs were turned momentarily. I walked through the streets of the town without disguise, meeting many burghers, but was not challenged in the crowd. I got through the pickets of the town guards and struck the Delagoa Bay railroad. I walked along it, evading the watchmen at the bridges and cut-offs, and waited for a train beyond the first station. The 11:40 goods train from Pretoria had arrived before I reached the place and was moving at full speed. I boarded it with great difficulty and hid under coal sacks. I jumped from the train before dawn and was sheltered during the day in a small wood, in company with a huge vulture, who displayed a lively interest in me."

"I walked on at dusk. There were no more trains that night. The danger of meeting the guards of the line continued, but I was obliged to follow it, as I had no compass or map. I had to make wide detours to avoid bridges, stations and huts, and so my progress was slow.

TELEGRAPH TOWER.

Central Office of the South African Wire Service Occupies a Rather Unique Building.

At Pretoria, the capital of the Transvaal, is a unique towerlike building, the central telegraph office of the South African Republic, that has no counterpart in the world. Its picture tells a better story than can be told in words. At this particular time the tower is a most important center, for here is gathered and distributed the soul-stirring news from the bloody battlefields at the south. It is a service not well performed, for the telegraph system of the republic is not an extensive or perfect one at its best, and now it is greatly crippled. Wires to the south connecting with stations near the scenes of action have been cut by the British and often destroyed by the Boers to keep them out of the hands of their enemies. So it is a constant work to keep the office in communication with desired points, and often its service has to be supplemented by carrier pigeons.

Just now the tower is indeed a busy place, constantly being visited by excited Boers anxious to hear from the front, while busy linemen are at work running out new wires and restoring breaks. They find war a sad destroyer of telegraphic communication, and, though they suffer, they are better off than the British, for they do get some news at this strange-looking tower, this present nervous center of their war-entangled republic.

Freaks of Explosions.

Gunpowder explosions have one remarkable feature. The bodies of persons killed in such an accident are always found without clothing, but frequently one foot will have the shoe on. This is true of horses also. If one of the feet is in the air and another on the ground, the shoe will be found torn from the foot that was on the ground, and not from the other. When men are killed in powder explosions the foot that happened to be in the air when the shock came will be found wearing the shoe, while the other foot will be bare.

Nerve and Blood Pills

Restore Color to Pale Cheeks and Flesh to Emaciated Forms.

The wonderful results of Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies have led to many imitations, but the proof of what a medicine can do is what it has done.

Mrs. M. B. Hungerford of Binghamton, N. Y., writes of her wonderful cure by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve and Blood Pills.

"I was all run down in health and strength. Overwork at fine dressmaking had made me so nervous that I was threatened with Nervous Prostration, and at times was perfectly helpless. A friend who had been made well and strong by using Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve and Blood Pills recommended them to me."

"The results were wonderful in strengthening and building up my nervous system, making me stronger and better in every way. They are a wonderful remedy."

In Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve and Blood Pills, weak, nervous women will find a sovereign remedy for the many weaknesses and ills of their sex.

A month's treatment will work wonders in revitalizing and reinvigorating every organ of the body. Persistent treatment will restore the worst case of nervous womanhood to robust health and strength.

If you are all run down and your strength nearly all spent, do not expect a perfect cure in a day or a week. We cannot guarantee the impossible, but we will guarantee that if the treatment is persisted in according to directions, that a restoration to health and vigor will result.

There are many imitations of Dr. A. W. Chase's remedies but only one Dr. Chase of "Recipe Book" form. Be sure his picture and signature is on every box you buy. Price 50 cents a box, at all druggists, or Dr. A. W. Chase Medicine Co., Buffalo, N. Y.
